Sayre Mansion Featured on Upcoming Episode of TV's "Ghost Hunters"

Bethlehem, PA (November 15, 2022)- The storied past of Bethlehem's Sayre Mansion is uncovered in a soon-to-be-seen episode of "Ghost Hunters." Airing Saturday, November 19 at 9 p.m. on the Travel Channel and streaming on Discovery +, the popular series investigates paranormal experiences reported at the 1858 mansion and one-time home of Robert Heysham Sayre, chief engineer of the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

The well-known team of "Ghost Hunters" spent a week at the Sayre Mansion earlier this year to document the supernatural activity. Using state-of-the-art technology and their proven methodology, the investigation focused primarily on two areas in the home- Room 11 and the Asa Packer Room. Room 11 once served as Robert Sayre's private library and the Asa Packer Room is a meeting room located in the mansion's lower level. Both spaces have seen the most supernatural activity over the years. Sayre Mansion General Manager, Sarah Trimmer says, "The team communicated with spirits and even recorded unexplained voices." In addition to capturing first-hand evidence, the show also reached out to former guests and staff members to corroborate reports of paranormal activity.

"Ghost Hunters" is in its 15th season. The show follows the team as they visit some of the most haunted locations in the country. "As caretakers of this historic property, we're always eager to learn more about its past and preserve it for future generations," said Settlers Hospitality CEO/Owner Justin Genzlinger. "We were excited to host "Ghost Hunters" and find out what their investigation would reveal. The paranormal activity was a little-known aspect of this iconic 23-room room boutique hotel. Most guests know Sayre Mansion for its elegance and the relaxation found here. This gave us an opportunity to highlight another quality of its rich history."

Robert Sayre lived with his family at The Sayre Mansion from 1858 until his death in 1907. The building then served as a fraternity house and apartment building before undergoing an extensive renovation in the early 1990s that returned it to its former glory. Since then, Sayre Mansion has welcomed guests for overnight stays and hosted numerous weddings and special occasions as a distinctive event venue.
